

Specific Information for Preparation of an Application

General:

- 1) The applicant must (1) make online registration from this home page and also (2) submit a set of application documents including (3) CD-ROM or USB memory of application documents (PDF, title: your online registration number) by post. Both the online registration and application package should reach the Foundation between July and September 1, 2019. Application packages should preferably be sent by certified mail or courier service.
- 2) Applications must be written in English and printed on the official application form. Unless otherwise specified, copies of a blank page included in this package may be used for additional pages.
- 3) Application document must be typed with a font size of 11 point or larger on A4 or letter size papers and the margins on left and right side should be at least 2.5cm.
- 4) Application document must be stapled. Do not use ring file or other binder.

Item 0. Online Registration Number: Enter your online registration number you obtained.

Item 1. Applicant: Enter your name, the Last Name, the First Name and the Middle Name in order and the Last Name in boldface. If a grant is awarded as a result of this application, you would assume the responsibilities of the principal investigator (P.I.) of the proposed project. Do not write more than one name. If the proposed project involves joint studies by more than one investigator in an institution or other institutions, one of them should take the responsibilities as the principal investigator. If the each investigator or the each institution requests its own budget, make Item 13 (Detailed budget) or Item 14 (Justification) to clear its own budget. Under these conditions, a collaborative nature of the applications should be indicated under Item 11 (Abstract) and Item 16 (Research Plan.) On the other hand, a P.I. may share his or her grant with collaborators in other institutions as long as the P.I. and his or her institution would take scientific and financial responsibilities for the entire project.

Item 2. Degree & Title: Enter your degree (Ph. D., M. D.) and title/position in your organization.

Item 3. Institution: Enter the name, postal and e-mail addresses, as well as phone & fax numbers of the institution to which you are affiliated. If the application is filed by a third party (ex. Regent of the University), its name and address should be printed on the right half of the space provided along with the aforementioned mailing address of the principal investigator.

Item 4. Title: The title should be descriptive but should not exceed 80 typewriter spaces, including blank spaces and punctuation.

Item 5. Funds Requested: Enter in US Dollars.

Item 6. Financial or administrative official: Enter the name, mailing address, phone & fax numbers and e-mail address of a person who would be, if a grant is awarded, responsible for bookkeeping and reporting detailed financial record to the Foundation. The project research member cannot be a Financial/Administrative Official for the Grant. The Foundation may make inquiry to this person about the bank account (usually that of the grantee organization) to which the grant money should be transferred.

Item 7. Individual who represents the grantee organization: Enter the name and mailing, phone, fax & e-mail addresses of a person who is authorized to act for the applicant organization and to assume, if a grant is awarded, the obligations imposed by the grant.

Item 8. Signatures: Enter signatures of the individuals whose names appear under Items 1, 6 and 7.

Item 9. Project team: Describe your research group by listing all the individuals who would be involved in the proposed project. If the proposed project is a part of a large program, list also the key personnel in the program.

Item 10. Research facilities: Describe that your laboratory and institution are sufficiently well equipped for the proposed study.

Item 11. Abstract: The abstract should begin with the project title (Item 4.) If the proposed project is a part of a large (collaborative) program, clearly indicate it in the abstract. The Graphical abstract(one page) should be included. Do not exceed 2 pages in total. Mizutani Foundation will use these pages to select primary reviewers for your application. Therefore, the abstract should be informative and well focused. Include one (1) extra color copy of these pages in your application.

Item 12. Human subject etc.: If your project involves human subjects, vertebrate animals, radioisotopes, biohazards, or recombinant DNAs, follow the policies of your institution. Copies (three each) of the institutional approval should be submitted, as appendix materials, with the application.

Item 13. Detailed budget: Prepare the budget in US Dollars. The budget may include the costs of salaries and fringe benefits for supporting personnel, equipment, supplies, travel and other miscellaneous items that are necessary for the execution of the proposed study. The budget may also be used for indirect costs (overheads) as long as the latter do not exceed 10% of the total budget. Note that the overheads are included in your total grant. The grant may not be used for the salaries of the principal or collaborative investigators, either in full or in part. If a major change must be made in the budgets after the grant is awarded, obtain permission from the Foundation.

Item 14. Justification: Justifications must be provided for the costs of personnel, equipment, major supplies, travel and major items in other expenses. Use additional pages if necessary.

Item 15. Biographical sketches: Describe academic profiles of the principal and other investigators listed above under Item 9. List in chronological order (a) education, (b) professional employment and (c) representative publications (including their titles and names of authors). Do not exceed two (2) pages for each investigator. [A project team can select maximum five (5) representative publications and submit the 2 sets of reprints in duplicate as appendix materials.]

Item 16. Research plan: Provide sufficient information for the proper evaluation of your research proposal. If the proposed study is a part of a large program, provide in this section the title and summary statement of the large program, and describe the role and significance of your work in the program. Do not exceed ten (10) pages including tables, figures and references.
